

ELAINE SHEMILT

Artist-in-residence at South Hill Park for the last two years, Elaine Shemilt will be holding an exhibition in the Main Gallery from October 30—November 28.

'I have made a video on a theme which has been recurring throughout my work for several years and I have been collecting imagery in the form of drawings and photography. There will also be a series of prints in silkscreen, lithography and etching, colour photographs, work on canvases and some prints on perspex, which may take the form of sculpture. It will be a mixed media exhibition.'

Elaine Shemilt's work can be likened to language in that each separate image is carefully selected and placed to form a visual sentence or statement. The spatial relationships between the images are vitally important, as is the scale of the work.
